TWO ARRESTS RESULT OF FIGHT

Jesse Easley is Fined $5 and Costs
For Carrying Revolver and Henry Johnson is Held.

IS UNDER SERIOUS CHARGE

Accused of Assault and Battery on Arnold Yazel With Intent to Kill —Yazel Stabbed.

What seems to have been a free-for-all fight involving Arnold and Fred Yazel, Henry Johnson and Jesse Easley, the last two being colored, ended the carnival, which was in progress at the ball park, last night. Arnold Yazel received the worst of the encounter receiving a blow over the head that rendered him unconscious for several hours and a cut about 5 inches in length on his breast.

Jesse Easley was arraigned before Squire Kratzer on charges of carrying concealed weapons and assault and battery on Arnold Yazel. Johnson was charged with assault and battery with intent to kill Arnold Yazel. Easley was found guilty of carrying a revolver and fined $5 and costs. Because of the condition of Arnold Yazel the cases for assault and battery were continued. Johnson was acquitted on the assault charge against Fred Yazel. Yazel was evidently hit by someone as he had a mark over his left eye, but was not absolutely certain as to who struck him.

Both of the colored boys went to jail to await trial and Easley will lay out his fine for carrying deadly weapons. Johnson's bond was fixed at $300 for the assault and battery with intent to kill charge. It is alleged that he cut Arnold Yazel. The cause of the fight is not known. Johnson claims that Fred Yazel started a fight with Easley and that he acted as peacemaker and did not strike either of the Yazels.

The trouble occurred about thirty last night and most of the people had left the carnival grounds. George Kenner, colored, was with the other two boys and was arrested this morning when it was shown they did not have anything against him. It is stated that all were drinking at the time of the trouble. When the police arrived Arnold Yazel was found stretched out on the ground unconscious. He was stabbed once with a knife and it is the opinion of the police that he was hit over the head with a club or some instrument.

The scalp was not broken but he evidently was hit hard because he did not come to until about four o'clock this morning. The wound on his breast is not considered serious and he will recover. Easley told the court that he threw the revolver away before the fight. He stated that it was only a piece of a revolver and would not shoot. He said he was carrying the gun for a bluff but the court thought it was a serious affair and fined him $5 and costs.

The charge against Johnson is a serious one and the preliminary is all that will be heard by Squire Kratzer as it is a case for the circuit court. He denied hitting Arnold Yazel or doing the cutting and the police are determined that the guilty party shall be punished. Sheriff Cavitt, Policeman Hardin and Night-watchman Sullivan made the arrests.

JUST SENDS BACK THE FINE

Quincy Rees Admits Guilt When Officer Arrests Him.

Quincy Rees, of near Falmouth, who was arrested yesterday by Special Constable T. E. McAllister on a provoke charge filed in Squire Kratzer's court by Ed Laughlin, pleaded guilty to the charge and sent back $11 by McAllister to pay the fine. The offense occurred here on the day of the Democratic convention. Rees admitted that he was guilty and rather than take his time from his work sent the fine down by the constable.

SMALL BOY RUN OVER BY A BUS

Hurst Bogue, Age Six Years, Escapes
Serious Injury in Unfortunate Accident

SUDDEN STOP THROWS HIM

Hurst Bogue, the six-years-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Bogue, was painfully injured late yesterday afternoon near his home in West Fourth street when he was run over by a bus. The little boy was riding on a coaster wagon and as he approached the alley crossing, just west of Main street, attempted to stop for the bus. The sudden stop threw him off and he was run over. For a time it was thought he was seriously hurt but there were no bones broken and he rested well last night. He was painfully bruised but his injuries are not expected to prove serious.

NEXT MEETING TO BE IN RUSHVILLE

This City Chosen For 1915 by Missionary Societies of United Presbyterian Churches.

NEW OFFICERS ARE NAMED

The next annual convention of the United Presbyterian church missionary societies of southern and central Indiana will be held in Rushville. This decision was reached at the closing session of the 1914 convention at the Milroy United Presbyterian church late yesterday afternoon. The date for the meeting was not definitely fixed.

The meeting at Milroy was a most enjoyable as well as successful affair. The program was carried out without a hitch. There were between seventy-five and a hundred at the meeting. The visitors were fed in the basement of the church. Late yesterday afternoon the following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. Frederick Elliott, Greensburg; first vice-president, Mrs. William J. Waite, Rushville; second vice-president, Mrs. Marcus Kendall, Glenwood; recording secretary, Mrs. Maggie Weir, Vevay; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Robert Scott, Greensburg; Junior secretary, Mrs. Maurice Watson, Princeton; Thank Offering secretary, Mrs. Edgar Culbertson, Vevay; Literature secretary, Mrs. J. A. Mahaffy, Indianapolis; Temperance secretary, Mrs. Herman Miller, Milroy; Tithe secretary, Mrs. M. T. Hudleson, Dunreith; Young Women's secretary, Mrs. H. A. Kramer, Rushville, and treasurer, Mrs. L. E. Curry, Bloomington.

ORDERS METERS BY JULY FIRST

City Treasurer Sends Out Notices
Today Consumers Must Install Them by That Time.

OR WATER WILL BE SHUT OFF

Meter and Installation Range in Price From $11.50 to $18.50 According to Position.

According to a notice sent to the city water patrons today by John P. Stetch, city treasurer, "on and after July 1, 1914 no water will be furnished to anyone except through meter." There are now approximately 180 water meters in use in the city and there are 1,046 water patrons who are not using meters.

The notice adds that "there will be a great demand for meters about that time and in order that you may not be delayed and inconvenienced, it is suggested that you file your application for a meter and the installation of same at once."

According to a rule of the council, a deposit of $10.40 must be made when a patron applies for a meter. This is the initial cost of the meter. Additional cost of installation only is necessary when a meter is placed in a basement. In this event the patron is liable for any damage for freezing. When the meter is installed at the curb, in addition to the cost of installation, there is other equipment which has to be purchased. In this case, however, the city has to make all repairs incident to freezing. In other words, the city guarantees the meter will not freeze up.

The cost of the meters ranges considerably because the cost of installation varies as to conditions. The city charges 35 cents an hour for the work of the man who installs it. The cost of fittings which the consumer must pay is dependent on the position of the meter.

Some sample cases were taken from the city treasurer's office. One meter installed in a basement cost $11.55. The meter cost was $10.40, the labor 70 cents and the fittings 55 cents.

There is liable to be more range in the price of curb meters. In three instances the cost was $18.31, $18.33 and $17.15. The meter box which is necessary to prevent freezing in curb meters costs $3.60. Glazed tile costing $1.40 is necessary with each meter.

The notices are being sent to consumers irrespective of whether they live in their own property or rental property. Payment for meters will likely have to be arranged for between tenants and owners. According to the notice, the city looks to the consumer for the meter order and deposit, and if the meter is not ordered, the water will be cut off. In most cases water rental is included in house rental.

In cases where meters have been installed in rental property, the owners has paid for the meter. City Treasurer Stetch recalls but a very few cases where the tenant paid for the meter. It may be noted, however, that the city should not expect to collect for meter from a tenant. This is indicated by the fact that on the application for a meter there is a blank for the name of the property owner.

The city now sells water by meter at $1.50 a thousand cubic feet or twenty cents a thousand gallons. The council has filed a rate schedule with the state public service commission asking the right to raise the rate to $1.85 a thousand cubic feet or about 23 cents a thousand gallon and

THEN BEVERIDGE LOST HIS TEMPER

Statement Yesterday That Judicial Candidate from Liberty Wouldn't Run Brought Rebuks

HE DEMANDS MAN WHO WILL

Republicans and Progressives Want to Beat Judge Gray by Centering
on Raymond Springer

The Progressive conference held here yesterday, with Albert J. Beveridge acting as school teacher for the county chairmen and precinct committeemen, brought out one thing that is absolutely certain—Beveridge will not stand for the Republicans capturing a single office if he can prevent it, and as a precaution against the Republicans winning he is not only urging, but insisting on the Bull Mooseers putting out complete tickets.

A specific instance of this is in the case of the judicial district composed of Fayette, Union and Franklin counties. The Republicans in this district have an excellent chance of redeeming the district from the clutches of the present Democratic member of the bench, Judge George Gray, brother of Finly. The district has come to the conclusion that it will rid itself of Judge Gray, who has used the bench simply for political means. The general sentiment of the district is that Raymond Springer, a well known young attorney of Connersville, should be elected and will be if Beveridge keeps his hands out of affairs.

In the conference here yesterday Beveridge called on the county chairmen of each county. When he got to Fayette county, Chairman Stoops responded and in the course of his remarks stated that they had placed a complete ticket in the field, including a judge and prosecutor. He stated, however, that the Bull Moose candidate for judge, an aged and wealthy lawyer of Liberty, had about decided not to serve. His reason, as stated by Mr. Stoops, was that the people of the district desired to beat Judge Gray and that they could only do it by giving aid to Raymond Springer.

At this announcement Beveridge "went straight up in the air" and declared that the Progressives of that district would have to nominate a man that would run. While talking to the Fayette county chairman, the matter of Progressive publicity also was given attention. It was stated that the Connersville News had been friendly to the Progressive cause but that so far this year they had not been able to obtain any satisfactory statement from the editor as to what they could expect.

It was told Mr. Beveridge that the Connersville News favored the candidacy of Raymond Springer, the Republican nominee, because of the effort to beat Judge Gray. At this announcement Beveridge told the Fayette county men to have a talk with the editor and see if they could not change his views. He would not listen to any talk of the Progressives of that district withdrawing their candidate and did not care a rap about defeating the present judge.

This is the only one of the many instances in which Beveridge is helping defeat the Republican party. In this district in question, the Democrats deserve to be beaten and Springer is the logical man, but Beveridge and the Bull Moose state organization are determined to help elect Gray if the plans go through as he told them they had to yesterday.

MAN WANTED HERE FOUND IN ANDERSON

Harrison Payne, Colored, is Arrested For Assault and Battery With Intent to Kill.

CHARGE BY COLUMBUS BINGUM

Harrison Payne, colored, was brought here this morning by a deputy sheriff from Anderson to face a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill Columbus Bingham. Payne was arrested on a bench warrant from the local court and it was expected that he would be given a preliminary hearing this afternoon before Judge Megee.

The affidavit was filed by Bingham, who alleged that Payne assaulted him on June 6, striking him over the head with a shovel. The two men were employed by the Wilk and Co., construction company near Milroy and the fight occurred while they were at work. Following the fight Payne left the county and was located in Anderson. Bingham believes Payne attempted to kill him. He was badly hurt by the blow.

CASE GOES OVER UNTIL NEXT WEEK

Judge Adjourns Vandenberg Case
This Afternoon When he Sees it Will Not End Tomorrow.

BROTHER OF MOSES ON STAND

The Vandenberg case, which has been on trial in the circuit court since Monday, will go over until next week. Judge Blair adjourned at the end of today's session until Monday. When it was seen that the case could not be finished tomorrow he determined not to hold court on Saturday. The case is expected to occupy a greater part of next week.

The defense continued to examine witnesses today. John W. Vandenberg, a brother of Moses Vandenberg, was on the stand a greater part of today. He told of the different transactions his brother had been involved in and related incidents connected with the purchase of the Lion store in Anderson, which is involved in the suit.

MEDIATION IS SURE TO FAIL

This is Admitted in Washington Today Unless Huerta Delegates
Recede from Position

HUERTA MUST BE ELIMINATED

If he Refuses, United States Will Lift Arms Embargo—This Will

MEDIATORS AT WASHINGTON.

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 19.—While mediation proceedings in Niagara Falls were halted, Ambassador Naon of Argentina, one of the A. B. C. mediators, unexpectedly came here today and remained secluded at the embassy. It was reported he was in telephone communication with the White House and State department.

(By United Press.)
Washington, June 19.—Mediation is ended unless Huerta delegates recede from their position. This is frankly admitted. The United States has given its last word.

Ether Huerta retires voluntarily and a provisional government is established or this country will openly aid the Rebels. There will be no invasion of Mexico by the United States troops, but the embargo on arms to the Rebels will be lifted by the United States.

Secretary Bryan still believed that at the last moment Huerta will give in. Other cabinet members were not so hopeful. Nearly every official in Washington believes Huerta would rather surrender Mexico City to the United States troops than to the Rebels in Mexico.

They believe announcement of the end of mediation will be the signal for an attack on Funston's men at Vera Cruz that will make reprisal absolutely necessary. Bryan and the president conferred over Mexico for more than an hour today.

$600,000,000 Automobiles

The trade estimates that the sales of automobiles for 1914 will aggregate a total of $600,000,000.

And yet some pessimists talk about dull times.

It is interesting to note that this immense volume of business has been largely built up through persistent advertising linked with consistent salesmanship.

And more enlightening still is the fact that much the larger percentage of automobile advertising is used in the daily newspapers.

The newspaper advertising which in most cases is directly linked up with the name of the local dealer is the sales message that brings direct results.

The automobile is a useful servant, but had there not been such aggressive and intelligent advertising its manufacture would still be among the infant industries.

EXPLAINS AIMS OF THE NEW BODY

Pamphlet From Rush County Chamber of Commerce is Mailed to Members and Other Persons.

NOW HAS OVER 200 MEMBERS

Field of Work is Expanding, Not Diminishing, it is Declared Strength on the Increase.

The secretary of the Rush County Chamber of Commerce has mailed to each member and to other interested persons not members a pamphlet explaining the aims and purposes of the Chamber of Commerce. The pamphlet reads as follows:

The Chamber of Commerce of Rush county is no longer an experiment, but a permanent organization. We have over 200 members, and the field of work is expanding, not diminishing. Every day brings forth a new problem and the members have shown remarkable enthusiasm in solving them. We are agitating needed measures, some suggested by scores of citizens who are not members. Most of them are very practical, and not visionary; and not one of them but will eventually benefit every citizen of this community, either in satisfaction and pleasure, or in cold, hard cash.

There is no argument to prove that the Chamber of Commerce is not needed in Rush county; there is every argument to prove that we have a definite mission, and that we are setting about its accomplishment in the sanest and most business-like way possible. We are not relying on the flourish of trumpets and the waving of banners to accomplish our projects, else the glamour of our conception would have by now abated. Rather has our strength increased, and our methods become more effective, by meeting resistance. We have not paused to search for a needless slogan, nor delayed for frivolous reasons. Our members have been working, working hard, and, strange to say, not for themselves, but for the public good.

The Chamber of Commerce of Rush county is not merely a merchant's association, nor an association of any special group of men. It is not trying to put dollars into the pockets of one class of citizens, taking them from the hard-earned savings of the rest. It is bigger than this. Its mission is "to break down the fence of selfishness that has been erected around the individuals of Rushville;" to secure the greatest good to the greatest number. It has its merchants, its employers, its professional men, each group with its special problems, and special committees to solve them; but it has too its employees, its clerks, and its laboring men, and their problems. There are no selfish lines circumscribing them, and limiting the field of their usefulness. Men are learning that what is good for all benefits each one, and that where every man works for himself alone, he loses more than he gains, both in happiness, and in money.

There is no hidden thorn in the Chamber of Commerce. The members have realized that every project secured, resulting in a cleaner, more beautiful city, in bringing townspeople and farmers to see that their interests are mutual, in developing or reviving the natural industries of our community in securing co-operation between men of the same or of different business interests, adds fame and reputation to Rush county. Publicity is advertising, and advertising means prosperity. We are not black-listing non-members. We wish you were with us; but your good is our good, and we are for you. You will awaken to this some day. "Boost, don't knock."

Rushville and Rush county are not good enough for us. Great and good they are, but we need many things, and the Chamber of Commerce is trying to secure them. We are trying to secure an auditorium, which every citizen of Rush county has need for some time during the year.

We are trying to get more good roads and more paved streets; everybody will use them, and many need them badly. We are trying to secure a county agent, who will mean thousands of dollars to the farmers, through improved methods and increased products. We are trying to secure more public meetings, so that Rushville may benefit from her central location in the district, and her splendid railway facilities, by bringing outsiders here to spend their money. We are working to revive the great horse industry that made Rush county famous—a business that will redound to the advantage of every farmer, and to the business men of Rushville. We are trying to boost the industries of our own town, deeming it better to increase their production and market than to advertise ourselves by seeking new industries of doubtful good. We are aiming at a Rushville that will hold to its old standards of beauty and permanence as the best residence town in the middle west. And we are boosting Rushville and Rush county every day in the year, wherever and whenever possible.

Does anything in this list interest you? Do you disapprove of any? Good! Don't knock! Come and help us. If you like these things, you need us: if you know more than we, we need you. We all have to live here. If you can leave, you would go to some other community that has the same or some other faults. They all have our faults, but few have all our advantages.

Make use of us. Bring in your ideas. Help us build up the horse business; help us erect the auditorium, by boosting it and by taking stock in what is bound to prove a paying venture; do what you can to increase our mileage of good roads and paved streets; agitate for a cleaner, more sanitary town; use our Employment Bureau; get your money's worth by joining in the movement to help everybody as well as yourself.

Every member has a double responsibility—one of work, as a committee member, and a financial one. We have lost so few that they can be counted on the fingers of one hand; we have gained new members pay their dues, and we are tryers to take their place. The meeting to make more efficient the machinery of the club. Other such clubs have found that it pays to eliminate the long grind of collecting. The Secretary is paid too much to make him a mere collector. The week or more devoted to collections should be put on the real work of the organization. Pay your dues in advance. In most places these are paid annually, or at least, semi-annually. Remember, we are a permanent organization, and the money paid in is banked for our use, under a bonded Secretary and Treasurer, and cannot be paid out without due consideration by a strong Executive Committee. You can eliminate the annoyance of frequent collecting and the Secretary need not waste time hunting up busy members. This is a plain business proposition, and several have already availed themselves of the opportunity. The dues are small enough that any business man can reach them; you will feel better with them paid in advance. It will cost you nothing, and will be much appreciated. There are some members who cannot afford to do so. The Secretary will cheerfully collect such dues. Think it over. Mail in your check to the Secretary at your earliest convenience. It will cost you two cents, and change the Secretary's work from foot-work to head-work. That is real efficiency.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

Look years younger! Use the old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur to-night and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

ON and OFF the SCREEN

MARGARET GIBSON.

"AN EXCITING COURTSHIP" is a one reel comedy release in which several trained bears play an important role.

Margaret Gibson, who is acknowledged to be one of the most beautiful girls in the moving picture world, is scoring a great success with her dainty work. Miss Gibson is on the Pacific coast at present in a series of photo plays.

A magnificent presentation of the thrilling incidents of the civil war in "The Southerners" includes the battle of Chickamauga and the entrance of Farragut into Mobile bay. A powerful love story, laid in the unsurpassable beauty of southern scenery, completes one of the most powerful and absorbing dramas ever filmed.

SCENE FROM "AN EXCITING COURTSHIP."

In "The Mystery of the Amsterdam Diamonds" Cleek comes to the assistance of the customs service in pursuit of a smuggler. He works in disguise, and the officials do not even know he is aboard the ship with the smuggler, whom he catches red handed after the officials have searched him and found nothing.

In "Lost—A Pair of Shoes" Mrs. Martin, having secretly saved $50, puts it in an old shoe. Hubby heaves the shoe at a songful cat, but hits a man, who turns the shoe over to a washwoman. The Martins each start out on a feverish hunt for the missing footgear.

"A Tight Squeeze" is the eighth "Dolly of the Dailies" story. Dolly is sent to cover a Salvation Army wedding, and a cub goes out on a murder story. He talks too much, is slugged and thrown down cellar in a saloon. Dolly discovers him by accident, rescues him via the coal hole and catches the murderers in a raid that follows.

Miss Helen Dunbar is very popular with her hosts of admirers for her splendid portrayals of a wide range of characters. Miss Dunbar is a woman of charming personality, a fine photographic subject, and her long stage experience has perfected her for any role she is called upon to assume.

"Frederick the Great" is a two part drama release. Few monarchs in history have had more eventful careers than Frederick the Great. His youth, the death of his father, the battles of the famous Seven Years' war, his relations with treacherous Baron Trenck and Voltaire and the final review of his troops are a few of the incidents.

"A Lady of Spirits" is the sixth "Wood B. Wedd" story. Wood B. has encountered several foes, real and supposed, but this is his first battle with the unknown. The Widow Morton's wealth captures him, but when he is visited by her late lamented's relatives he departs hastily.

Amusements

The Princess will show a two reel Essanay drama "In the Moon's Ray" for the first picture tonight. Francis X. Bushman is featured and it is said to be a very a dramatic production showing some very thrilling scenes. The other is a drama entitled "At His Expense." It is said to tell a strong moral lesson that is worth while.

OFF FOR ALASKA.

(By United Press.)
San Francisco, June 19.—The United States army transport Buford today is enroute for Alaska carrying part of the Fourteenth Infantry, which has been designated to relieve the Thirteenth Infantry. The Thirteenth which is distributed along a thousand miles of the Alaskan Coast will be returned to the mainland, first coming to the Presidio here. About 500 men will be taken to Alaska and the same number shipped home. The Buford has been in drydock and after a thorough overhauling presents the appearance of a new vessel.

Bishop Butler's Generosity.
The saintly Bishop Butler, whose "Analogy" is still used as a text book for clerical examinations, kept open house at Durham, where he dispensed hospitality with a lavish hand. On one occasion a man called at the palace soliciting a subscription for some charitable object. "How much money is there in the house?" asked Butler of his secretary. The secretary after investigation replied that there was £500. "Give it to him, then," replied the philosopher bishop, "for it is a shame that a bishop should have so much."—London Globe.

Gentleman.
Gentleman is from the French "gentilhomme" and means one who belongs to the gens, or stock. In old Roman law gens-men, or gentlemen, were those only who had a family name, were born of free parents, had no slave in their ancestral line and had never been degraded to a lower rank.

Ancient Armor.
In 1518 a battle was fought near Milan, in Italy, and so perfect was the armor of both armies that, although the conflict raged from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., no one on either side was either killed or wounded, though one man broke his collar bone by falling off his horse.

Disenchanted.
"Do you believe in the superhuman?"
"I used to, but I don't any more."
"Why?"
"I married him."—Exchange.

PROPOSE CHANGES IN CONSTITUTION

Most of the Forty Amendments Promptly Rejected.

SUFFRAGE IS IN THE LEAD.

Liquor, Judiciary, Monopoly and Elections Affected by the Bills—Doolittle Has Plan For Recall of Judicial Decisions by Legislatures—Theorists Ride Hobbies.

Washington.—The agitation in congress for the passage of a resolution submitting to the states an equal suffrage amendment to the federal constitution has directed attention to the many attempts that are being made to change or supplement the fundamental law of the land. Every now and then a resolution of this character is dropped into the hopper in congress, but it is not until the entire batch is collected and laid out in review that one is impressed with their real significance.

There have been periods of unrest and agitation before, but never has such a variety of changes been proposed to congress as now. Many officials in Washington even would be surprised to learn that there are forty resolutions pending before congress providing for changes in the federal constitution.

The amenders want to change almost everything—the executive, legislative and judicial departments of the government—and they want to write into the fundamental law also a good many things that cannot be interfered with by any part of the government. They want to settle things for all time, and the strange feature is that many of the proposed changes were considered by the fathers and rejected as out of harmony with the scheme of government which they were seeking to establish.

Of all the propositions of this character now before congress that of Representative Doolittle of Kansas is probably the most unique. He proposes to amend article 5 of the federal constitution.

He has a method for the recall of judicial decisions by referendum to the state legislatures and not to the people. Mr. Doolittle is a Democrat and a direct descendant of the first colonial governor of Virginia.

Representative Lafferty, Democrat from Oregon, suggests an amendment by which proposed amendments to the constitution may be submitted to the states by a majority vote of the two houses of congress and be ratified by two-thirds of the states.

Representative Hardwick of Georgia proposes the repeal of the fifteenth amendment and all after the first sentence in the fourteenth amendment, so that all he would have remain of those two celebrated amendments would be the declaration that "all persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and the state wherein they reside."

Another group of proposed constitutional amendments is directed at the courts. Representative Cullop, Democrat, from Indiana, proposes that all judges of the supreme court of the United States shall be elected at a presidential election, four of whom shall serve for four years and five for eight years. After that first election the term of the judges shall be eight years. The court shall elect a chief justice, clerk and marshal, and their terms shall be four years.

Representative Hull of Tennessee proposes to amend the constitution and give congress power to abolish any inferior court of the United States and to remove any judges of such courts by two-thirds vote of both houses.

Representative Raker of California, Democrat, proposes an amendment that the judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity commenced or prosecuted against any state by citizens of another state or by citizens or subjects of a foreign state or by reason of the citizenship of any corporation.

Mr. Raker wants to keep the Japanese question out of the United States courts and leave that whole question to California.

Representative Nelson of Wisconsin, Republican, wants an amendment giving congress the power to define, prevent and suppress monopolies, combinations and agreements in restraint of trade.

Representative Edmonds, a Republican from Philadelphia, suggests that Congress be empowered to establish uniform laws of marriage and divorce and provide penalties for violation of the same.

Representative Peters, a Democrat of Massachusetts, proposes to give congress the power to regulate the business or commerce of insurance throughout the United States and its territories and possessions.

Representative Henry, a Democrat from Texas, proposes an amendment to change the date of inauguration of the president to the last Thursday in April and the date for the assembling of congress to the second Tuesday in January.

Prohibition is the subject of another group of amendments. Senator Works of California proposes to prohibit in the United States the sale, manufacture and importation of distilled liquors containing alcohol except for mechanical, scientific and medicinal purposes.

English Walnuts.

The so called English walnut is almost exclusively the product of France, whence this country imports from 15,000,000 to 25,000,000 pounds annually.

to make a minimum charge of a dollar and a quarter in case the meter charge is not that great.

The city can not make this increase until the permission of the state commission is gained. John H. Kiplinger, city attorney, said today the commission would grant the increase by the first of July and that the new rate would be made effective by ordinance by that time. Before that time, however, the city plant has to be appraised to get its value so as to determine what it is earning. This must be done to ascertain what a fair charge would be.

More Psychology.

According to the statement of the United States treasury for June 1, 1914, the receipts for the fiscal year to that date compared with those for the corresponding date in 1913 were as follows.

Revenues: Customs, 1914, $269-137,281; 1913, $294,473,746. Internal revenue: Ordinary, 1911, $280,939,301; 1913, $281,198,319;
corporation in income tax, 1914,
$10,657,773; 1913, $6,296,025.
Miscellaneous, 1914, $51,317,626;
1913, $53,795,026. Total, 1914, $612-051,981; 1913, $635,673,116. Decrease in receipts, $23,621,135.

Disbursements: Net ordinary,
1914, $650,293,834; 1913, $629-
643,653. Increase in disbursements, $20,650,181.

Total psychological deficit, 1914, over 1913, $44,271,316.

To one sustained and fortified by the pleasing doctrines of psychology, a deficit of forty-four millions casts no shadow, cuts no ice, creates no ripple on the placid lake of self-content. He that is robbed, let him not know it, and he is not robbed at all,
said the greatest psychologist of all time.

Great is psychology, and President Wilson is its prophet. That's all.—

Words Fly Back at Him

(Cincinnati Enquirer, Dem.)

The Enquirer has based its opposition to repeal the tolls exemption law upon three reasons, either of which we believe to be sufficient to unite the voters of the Union against repeal.

First. No foreign nation has any right to interfere to any degree with our coastwise trade, our domestic commerce, passing from port to port of our own country through any waterway owned and controlled by the people of the United States.

Second. The Democratic party obtained power in 1912 by an explicit pledge in its platform that our coastwise vessels should pass through the Panama Canal free from tolls. The Democratic candidates promised they would carry out the pledges of the platform, and good morals and safe and honest administration required that the pledge and promise be kept.

Third. The business interest of every citizen of the United States, save those interested in foreign shipping combines or in the profits of the transcontinental railways of Mexico.

Canada or the United States, are all injured by the repeal and the progress and prosperity of the Union retarded by it.

We doubt if any speaker in the campaign of 1912 evidenced a clearer conception of the necessity of tolls exemption to the commerce of this country than did the Democratic candidate for President, Governor Wilson, in his speech to the great meeting of farmers at Washington Grove, N. J., on August 15 of that year.

Every farmer, every manufacturer every merchant, every miner, every workingman, every resident of the United States, should read these reasons, potent reasons, put forth by Governor Wilson in advocacy and support of the tolls exemption plank of the Democratic platform. He said:

"One of the great objects in cutting that great ditch across the Isthmus of Panama is to allow farmers who are near the Atlantic to ship to the Pacific by way of the Atlantic ports; to allow all the farmers on what I may, standing here, call this part of the continent to find outlet at ports of the gulf or the ports of the Atlantic seaboard, and then have coastwise steamers carry their products down around through the canal and up the Pacific Coast or down the coast of South America.

"Now at the present there are no ships to do that, and one of the bills pending—passed. I believe, yesterday by the Senate as it had passed the House—provides for free tolls for American ships through that canal and prohibits any ship from passing through which is owned by any American railroad company. You see the object of that, don't you? (Applause.)
We don't want the railroads to compete with themselves, because we understand that kind of competition.
We want water carriage to compete with land carriage, so as to be perfectly sure that you are going to get better rates around the canal than you would across the continent.

"Our platform is not molasses to catch flies. It means business. It means what it says. It is the utterance of earnest and honest men. Gentlemen who talk one way and vote another are going to be retired to a very quiet and private retreat."

Under the existing status of the tolls exemption issue we sincerely trust that every American citizen, irrespective of party affiliation, will vigorously follow out the suggestion of Governor Wilson in the last paragraph and see to it that the men
"who talked one way to voters on the tolls exemption and voted the other way" be retired to a very quiet and private retreat.

Democratic success in the counties, in the districts and the states may be advanced by beginning the retirements at the primaries.

The party will then fare better at the elections in November.

Real Reason of War Must Rest on Seem- ingly Hopeless Con- dition Mexico Is In

Press Association.

By Former President WILLIAM H. TAFT

IF the flag incident were the only reason for our intervention it might, in view of General Huerta's apology, seem a very insufficient ground upon which to bring about war—if war is to follow. Some have hoped that this might end with the seizure of two ports, Tampico and Vera Cruz, and that it may not be necessary for us to proceed further.
Those of us who know the kind of war that is to follow, if there is war, pray that this is true.

THE REAL REASON FOR THE WAR, IF IT FOLLOWS, IN HISTORY AND IN JUSTICE TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE, MUST REST UPON THE SEEMINGLY HOPELESS CONDITION THAT MEXICO IS IN. IN AN IN-TERNATIONAL WAY AND A HISTORICAL SENSE WE HAVE REACHED THE POINT WHERE OUR POSITION IN RESPECT TO THIS CONTINENT AND ALSO EUROPE IS THAT WE ASSUME THE RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE PEACE IN MEXICO, FOR MEXICO HAS CERTAINLY BECOME A NUISANCE FROM AN INTERNATIONAL STANDPOINT. IF WE ENGAGE IN WAR OUR ONLY JUSTIFICATION IS OUR NEIGHBORLY OBLIGA-TION TO GO IN AND TRANQUILIZE THE COUNTRY.

New York Walled City From Which Bar- ons Have Ruthlessly Levied Tribute

By JOHN SKELTON WILLIAMS, Controller of the Currency

NEW YORK HAS BECOME THE COMMERCIAL CAPITAL OF THE COUNTRY, THE GREAT CITADEL OF THE MONEY POWER, THE RESERVOIR OF MONEY SUPPLY. IT IS THE WALLED CITY
FROM WHICH THE BARONS HAVE LEVIED TRIBUTE ON A TERRI-TORY AND POPULATION VASTER THAN ANY LORD OR KING OF THE MIDDLE AGES DREAMED OF, YET SOMETIMES USING METHODS AS RUTHLESS AND SAVAGE AS THOSE OF THE FIERCEST OF THE ROB-BER NOBLES—FORAYS AND LEVIES DEVASTATING BY SCIENTIFIC, ARTFUL METHODS, PILLAGING UNDER FORM OF LAW, SMITING WITH SWORDS WHICH BITE DEEP, ALTHOUGH WE CANNOT SEE THEM, CONSUMING WITH FIRE WHICH COMES INVISIBLE AND UN-SUSPECTED. THE SIMILE SEEMS STRONG, BUT IT IS JUSTIFIED BY FACTS.

No sudden swoop by a feudal magnate on his peaceful neighbors was a more cruel or shameless plundering expedition than some of the transactions which have been brought to light by which the shareholders of railways and other great enterprises, established to build up the country and to promote the public interests, were despoiled. Their property and money were taken from them by the might of masses of money working stealthily.

Yet it would be foolish, unjust and wicked to hold New York as a community or her leading citizens generally, among whom are men as high and honorable as any country contains, responsible for the misdeeds, treachery and lawlessness of certain conspicuous offenders.

WITHOUT DOUBT THE OVERWHELMING MAJORITY OF THE CIT-IZENS OF OUR GREAT CITIES, AS OF OUR PEOPLE GENERALLY, HAVE VIEWED SUCH VIOLATIONS OF LAWS, LEGAL AND MORAL,
WITH AS GREAT ABHORRENCE AS ANY OF US AND HAVE FELT THE BLUSH OF SHAME THAT SUCH CRIMES ARE POSSIBLE IN THIS ENLIGHTENED AGE AND UNDER THE FORM OF GOVERNMENT WHICH HAS ALSO PRODUCED OUR LONG PROCESSION OF HEROES, PATRI-OTS AND STATESMEN.

Our Governments, Swept by Every Gust of Public Opinion, Absorbing Socialism

By Congressman MARTIN W. LITTLETON

THE PEOPLE OF THIS COUNTRY ARE FACE TO FACE WITH THE SUBSTANCE, IF NOT THE FORM, OF SOCIALISM IN THE STATE, IN THE NATION AND IN ALL MANIFESTATIONS OF PUBLIC AUTHORITY. OUR GOVERNMENTS, SWEEPED BY EVERY GUST OF PUBLIC OPINION, HAVE ABSORBED, EMBRACED, ADOPTED OR YIELDED TO IT IN ORDER TO PLACATE THE HOSTILITY OF ITS LEADERS.

The socialism that was once a philosophic propaganda is now a seamy political party. The modern Socialist finds no difficulty in seeking and taking an office whose oath binds him to support the constitutional government which he is pledged to destroy. Theirs is the gospel of equal and universal division. It is the philosophy of the parasite.

HOW CAN WE HOPE FOR ANY RESPECT FOR THE STABILITY, FIRMNESS AND STERNNESS OF A GOVERNMENT BY LAW WHEN MEN, AT THE POINT OF THE BAYONET OR UNDER SHOT AND SHELL, ARE DENIED THE RIGHT TO WORK AS THEY PLEASE? HOW CAN WE EXPECT REVERENCE FOR OUR INSTITUTIONS WHEN WE ALLOW RANTING, SCOLDING, SWEARING, SWASHBUCKLING MEN AND WO-MEN TO STAND IN OUR PUBLIC PLACES, DISGRACE OUR STREETS AND PROFANE OUR PUBLIC PARKS WITH THEIR IGNORANT AND IN-CENDIARY SPEECHES AGAINST ALL ESTABLISHED THINGS?

System of Treating Prisoners Serves to Em- bitter Them Against All Society

By Mrs. MAUD BALLINGTON BOOTH

THE churches, the schools and society have failed in their work, otherwise the men and women in prisons would not be there. There is no such thing as a criminal class.

OF COURSE IT IS RIGHT THAT THE WRONGDOERS SHOULD BE PUT IN PRISON. BUT SOCIETY OWES IT TO ITSELF TO SEE THAT THOSE IT IMPRISONS ARE TREATED LIKE HUMAN BEINGS. IT IS NOT AT ALL IMPOSSIBLE TO REDEEM MEN AND WOMEN WHO HAVE COME UNDER THE PENALTY OF THE LAW. BUT THEY CANNOT BE REDEEMED BY BRUTALITY. OUR SYSTEM OF TREATING PRISON-ERS SERVES ONLY TO EMBITTER THEM AGAINST ALL SOCIETY, AND IT CANNOT BE CHANGED WHILE WARDENS ARE SELECTED FROM AMONG POLITICIANS.

FLAG DAY EVENT IS IMPRESSIVE

Celeration Under Auspices of D. A. R. Includes Awarding of Prizes and Flag Drills.

PICTURES ARE REPRESENTED

Prize Winners and D. A. R. Members Call on John K. Gowdy When Program is Completed.

A most interesting program celebrating flag day was carried out at the Graham high school building yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the D. A. R. A good sized crowd attended. The flag drill and singing of patriotic songs by the school children were warmly applauded.

The cash prizes amounting to $20 were awarded as announced Tuesday. The first prize winners in the five classes among which the money was divided read their essays as a part of the program.

The picture of the celebrated painting, "Birth of Our Nation's Flag," which shows Betsy Ross showing the first flag ever made to George Washington was presented to the high school by the D. A. R. Mrs. Sarah Giffin, the regent of the chapter, made the presentation speech and L. B. Smelser responded in behalf of the high school.

Mrs. William M. Alexander gave the high school a photograph of the Constitutional Elm and one of the old state house, both at Corydon, the first capital of Indiana. They will be framed by Mrs. Alexander and hung in the high school assembly room alongside the picture given by the chapter. The Elm and state house

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is a sign you have been eating too much meat, which forms uric acid.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

are being cared for by the Corydon chapter of D. A. R. The Daughters of the American Revolution intend to make the essay contest an annual event.

Members of the D. A. R. chapters were very much pleased by the recognition given them by John K. Gowdy, former consul-general to Paris, who lives just across the street from the Graham school. Mr. Gowdy decorated his home in honor of the occasion.

Following the exercises, members of the D. A. R. and the prize winners in the essay contest called on Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Gowdy. Both were very much pleased and Mr. Gowdy talked interestingly to the young essayists. He recalled an event while he was consul-general that was of interest to the D. A. R.

The Daughters of the American Revolution maintain a chapter in Paris. While Mr. Gowdy was an official there the Paris chapter gave to the city of Paris a beautiful marble statue of Washington. Mr. Gowdy said that he had the honor of presenting it to the city for the D. A. R.

WHY COBB IS CALLED KING PIN OF PLAYERS.

You may say what you please about Ty Cobb being swell headed and all that, but he made two plays in a recent game that entitled him to the reputation of being the best ball player in the world. With a man on third and second he hit to the infield. The runner was caught at the plate, and Ty, figuring that the play would be made that way, purposely ran off first to draw a throw to second. While they were trying to get him the other man dashed for the plate and scored. Cobb thereupon ran all the way to third while the ball was being thrown home. Such plays have made him famous.

NEW PITCHING DEVICE.

This One Has Arms of Steel and Fingers to Throw Ball.

A device for pitching a baseball to a batter, built into a system of planes whereby the batted ball, no matter where it is slammed, will return automatically to the pitcher, has been invented and set up at Princeton by Alexander MacMillan, son of Professor Charles MacMillan of the Princeton university faculty. It is said that the invention solves the problem which confronts baseball managers which has heretofore required them to have a regular human pitcher with some ball chasers in the field before they could give their team batting practice.

The machine delivers to the batter any number of regulation balls, as fast as one in every eight seconds if the batter wants them that fast. Every one passes directly over the plate, and the height and speed at which they can be thrown is regulated by the lever which a man works behind the batter on the same principle as the clay pigeon throwing machine. The batter stands at one end of the court, which is incased with nets on three sides, and on the fourth, that immediately behind the batter, is a canvas stretching from the ground up to a height of forty feet. The pitching apparatus is stationed immediately in front of the batter, a distance away equal to half that separating the ordinary pitcher from the batter. It is composed of a throwing arm of steel pivoted in a frame, with fingers attached to one end and a strong spring to the other. Just below the finger is a catch and a trigger, the latter protruding through in such a way that when the ball drops from a chute immediately above the trigger it releases the catch and the spring forces the arm to catch the ball and hurl it across the plate. A lever directly back of the batter brings the arm into position again for the receipt and delivery of another ball. When the ball is hit fair it goes into the canvas playing field, which is marked off for one base, two base, three base and home run hits. The ball rolls down this canvas after it has lost its impetus and follows the slant to a chute directly beneath the throwing machine. Foul balls also fall on a plane converging toward this chute, and a plunger carries the ball from the entering chute at the bottom of the pitching machine to the chute at the top through which the ball falls on to the pitching arm for delivery to the batter.

The batter is enabled to see the "windup" of the pitcher also, because he can see the ball appear in the chute above the pitching arm and knows that as soon as it drops it will be pitched.

BELIEVE HOLLER IS RESPONSIBLE

People of Abington Stay Close at Home and are Careful About Water Supply.

HE WAS INMATE OF ASYLUM

(By United Press.)

Richmond, Ind., June 19.—Whether William Holler is a madman, heavily armed, lurking in the timber about Abington near here, and has poisoned the water of that village with blue vitrol, is the question puzzling the authorities of Wayne and Union counties. Women and children frightened by the stories, are remaining close to their Abington homes at night, and the men are cautious. The village water supply which comes from a spring, is poisoned. Men have said they have seen Holler, who once was an inmate of the Eastern Indiana Hospital for the Insane, stealing about the woods with a rifle and two revolvers.

The most recent development came in a statement from Thomas Lamb, a farmer, who declares that Holler is no longer insane, and that far from terrorizing Abington, he is remaining at home near there, peacefully performing his duties as a citizen. Lamb declares that Holler is a victim of persecutors who "have hounded him for years," seeking to have him returned to Easthaven in order that others may inherit a fortune said to be due Holler. Prosecutor Reller discredits the story that prominent Abington people have conspired against Holler.

SHOWING THE GROWING TENDENCY TO DRAW ALL DRAPERY TO THE BACK OF THE SKIRT

For some time we have noticed the inclination to arrange all fullness and drapery at the back of the skirt, leaving the front more or less plain; this began no doubt, with the revival of the bustle. It is pleasing and becoming, especially to slender figures.

This idea is illustrated effectively in 8390; it is a plain black taffeta gown with a yoked bodice and a draped overskirt. The drapery is arranged in puffs at the back. An inset vest of crisp, white organza affords the proper relief and the broad satin girdle lends an effective contrast to the dull finish of the taffeta. This frock may be copied in size 36, with 5 1/2 yards of 42-inch material. Taffeta is priced at $1.25 a yard and up.

The second costume shown (8390) is developed in a flowered taffeta over plain white; here is also a long draped overskirt, caught up slightly on one side to show a plaited flounce of cream white taffeta. A yoke saves the bodice from severity and the narrow frill of net finishing neck and sleeves is attractive.

To make up this dress in size 36, 4 1/2 yards of 42-inch taffeta is required.

A DEACON'S WIFE

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1913, by Associated Literary Press.

Deacon John Goodman was forty-eight years old when he lost his wife. They were a peaceful, good tempered twain and had never had a quarrel. There were no children, and a sister came to keep house for the deacon.

"He'll marry again within a year or two, of course," was the general opinion of the villagers.

The deacon didn't remarry, and after eight years had passed away he was given credit for being one of the few exceptions. He had just passed his fifty-sixth birthday when he drove over to Grafton one day with horse and buggy to transact some business. It was a splendid June day, and if anybody had told the deacon that he was going to run into a cyclone within an hour he would have laughed at the prediction. He was yet four miles from Grafton and toiling up a long hill when the cyclone appeared.

It had been sitting down on a stone to rest. It was a woman with a bulging satchel. She was about forty-five years old and had a pleasant face. She was asked if she didn't want a lift on her way and was invited to take a seat in the buggy. She didn't look at all to the deacon like a cyclone on wheels—not then. Both were naturally talkative, and inside of ten minutes they were talking away like old acquaintances. The cyclone was a widow named Pardon. She had been sewing at the house of a farmer. She had a married sister living in Grafton. She had been a widow for five years, and, while life was going very well with her, it was a bit lonesome.

Deacon Goodman confessed that it was also a bit lonely for him.

Widow Pardon had never considered a second marriage, but if she should happen to find the right sort of man it might set her to thinking.

"I understand," replied the deacon as he nodded his head.

"I make my own dresses, and I should be saving. And I can cook a boiled dinner fit for a king."

"I guess I'll stop and see your sister about it. I don't see no sorter use in waitin'. Hanner was complainin' this very mornin' about the hardness of the housework."

"Put it off for a week, and think it over. I also want to think."

The widow was left at a house in the village, the deacon's business transacted, and he returned home to say to his sister:

"Hanner, you can have your liberty purty soon."

"What d'ye mean by that, John?"

"I'm goin' to get married."

Deacon Goodman was known among men as a "reasonable man." He could be argued with, and he had often changed his mind, but in this matter he was as obstinate as a mule. The minister and others talked to him, but without avail. He was on hand on the day named. The sister had nothing to say for or against, and it was decided that the marriage should take place in two weeks. It came off according to schedule, and the deacon took his bride home and was a happy man—for three or four days. Then one morning he suggested that he liked his coffee a little stronger than the wife was making it, and she whirled on him, threw the utensil at his head and opened such a tornado of abuse that he sat with his mouth open and stared at her in dumb surprise.

The good man was still wondering what had broken loose when the wife slapped his face and pulled his hair and ran for the river vowing that she would drown herself. He sprang up and followed her, of course, and caught her just as she was going to take the plunge.

Ten days later there was a second outbreak. The deacon got abuse, profanity and more vigorous slaps, and again he caught his wife on the bank of the river.

In one year there were ten or twelve outbreaks, and, of course, the matter became town talk. The good deacon finally went to his minister about it, and the latter said:

"I have been waiting for three months, Brother Goodman."

"And you can tell me what I should do?"

"In a very few words, brother."

"Separate?"

"No."

"Get a divorce?"

"No."

"But it's got to end, parson. I can't stand it any longer."

"I think I have a plan to end it. When do you look for the next outbreak?"

"It may come any day now."

The minister whispered in the deacon's ear for the next ten minutes, and the plan was laid. Three days later there was a dispute over a roller towel, and the outbreak came. At the proper moment the wife ran for the river and was pursued. She was not overtaken, however. She was not seized and implored. She was under such impetus that she went into the river with a great splash. There was a man with a boat there, but he let her imbibe several gallons of water and sink twice before he rescued her. She was in bed for a week, and when she crawled out she was an altered woman. She was humble and contrite and never again had one of her spells. In fact, she made one of the best wives in town, and Deacon Goodman had reasons to congratulate himself many times over before he was gathered to his fathers. What she needed was the water cure to drown the temper out of her.

CO-OPERATION OF DEPUTIES ASKED

Fire Chief Walter Easley Has Communicated From State Fire Marshal About "Sane" Fourth.

REGULATION OF FIREWORKS

Proposes Ordinance Prohibiting Use of Fireworks in Celebrations and Regulating Storage.

Walter Easley, Rushville fire chief, is in receipt of a circular letter from the state fire marshal asking that he co-operate with other deputies in the county to prevent the annual loss of life and property in Fourth of July celebration. A similar communication has been received by every township trustee in the county who by virtue of his position is a deputy fire marshal. The state fire marshal has also sent a folder containing a comprehensive ordinance, prohibiting the discharge or firing of fireworks and limiting their storage.

The ordinance has been framed by the National Fire Protection Association, of which the Indiana Inspection, Bureau is a member, and the state fire marshal is suggesting that it be passed at once by all Indiana cities and towns. It is planned, however, that the ordinance be made effective immediately after July 4, since Indiana merchants in most cases, have already laid in their supply of fireworks for this year's celebration.

It is believed that the public interest may be more readily gained at this time in such a measure, and that although, in order to protect the merchants the ordinance would not be effective until after the Fourth, the effect of its agitation would have a wholesome effect at once.

Other cities are gradually prohibiting the discharge of fireworks on the Fourth of July, and are having recreation to other forms of celebration. One of the most notable results of this new policy is that shown in Washington, D. C. where the operation of a prohibitive ordinance eliminated any injuries incident to the celebration of the Fourth.

In 1908, when fireworks were not prohibited, 104 persons were treated in the Washington hospitals, as a result of the Fourth. In the following year, 1909, when the prohibitive ordinance was in force, not a single patient was treated for Fourth of July injuries in any of the city's hospitals.

"This same result can be achieved in the cities and towns of Indiana," says Fire Marshall Longley, "if our people will introduce and pass a prohibitive ordinance in their councils. It is proper to be patriotic, and there are many forms in which our patriotism may be manifest without being based on injury, death and property loss. Fireworks lead inevitably to these ends—and the price is too high."

"If fireworks are used, there will be serious injuries, if not deaths, as a result. It is bound to be. No one knows in advance just who the victim will be. But if we knew to a certainty that a member of our family, or a dear friend were to be a victim, no time would be lost in bringing about a condition which would make the injury impossible. We are taking chances just as long as the discharge of fireworks is permitted. There will be victims. We don't know where or at what minute. The one sure way to protect our families, our friends—and the public as well, is to see that a prohibitive ordinance such as being suggested, is at once passed. Then we will have a 'safe' Fourth of July—and not until then."

School officials, municipal officials and various organizations are communicating with the fire marshal, expressing their determination to prevent the customary injuries, property loss and noise of the "old-time" celebration, and are asking for suggestions relative to other forms of patriotic observance.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

SIMPLE DESIGNS FOR EMBROIDERING A TRAVELING-CASE

Useful indeed, one will find this little traveling case, for almost indispensable it is when on a summer vacation or a trip over the week end. All of one's toilet articles are compactly folded within an oiled silk case, so that there is no danger of a wet sponge or wash cloth damaging the wardrobe. Then also they are confined to one spot in the suitcase, so that they may be readily found. This case may be made any size desired, and the number and size of the pockets may vary according to one's needs. Silk or linen, with an oiled silk lining, should be used for making this case and they should be bound together with a ribbon. Before the case is made, the names of the articles should be embroidered in outline-stitch, and a design may be placed on the cover.

Pattern 14267 contains 11 words suitable for marking traveling-cases, bureau-sets, baby-carriage robes and laundry bags.

The dainty little trees, shown on the folded case, are from pattern 14503. There are 5 small motifs for cross-stitch, suitable for embroidering towels, runners and fancy articles.

Guaranteed, hot-iron transfers will be supplied for 10 cents.

EVERY TREE HAS A FAMILY "TREE"

Practically Every Majestic one in Washington was Planted by Some Notable

LINCOLN'S IS STILL STANDING

Mumblety-Peg is Chief Diversion of Statesmen After Weary Day in Congress

BY BURTON K. STANDISH
(Written for United Press.)

Washington, June 19.—Few persons realize that American history is linked as much with old trees as with historic buildings and spots. Few visitors to the National Capitol ever look at the famous trees—and there are thousands of visitors here every week who believe after their tour that they have seen everything of importance.

Not one in a thousand Washington visitors—or residents—know that the beautiful "Summer Elm" in front of the Capital was planted by Abraham Lincoln. Few know that nearly every other President of the United States has planted trees in Washington which still stand. Nearly every famous American statesman can be linked with one or more of the sturdy old trees here. A cypress near the Capitol was brought here by Mrs. Jefferson Davis and just across the street from it is a tree Charles Sumner planted.

The "tree man" of Washington is Bristow Adams, forest examiner of the Bureau of Forests, United States Department of Agriculture. Speaking of trees closely associated with American history Adams said: "There is the famous elm under which William Penn made his treaty with the Indians. That tree was so esteemed that the English soldiers placed a special guard around it during the Revolution, and after it was blown down by a gale in 1810 its trunk was sent to the old Penn family seat, near Windsor, England. There it still is preserved."

On Georgia avenue in Washington, according to Adams, on the grounds of the Walter Reed Hospital is the trunk of an American poplar which was occupied by both Confederate and Federal lookouts and sharpshooters during the Civil War when the Southern forces made their nearest approach to Washington. The tree was the lookout point from Fort Stevens.

Scattered throughout the United States, especially in New England are many other famous trees. If one elm in Boston could tell its history, tragic tales of suffering would be unfolded, for on it were hanged two witches and Mary Dyer, the Quakeress.

At Hartford, Conn., is the famous charter oak where the charter of Connecticut was hidden when King James sent Governor Andrew across the ocean to usurp the powers in the original land grant.

Adams said he believed the old Appomattox Oak is still standing. Under it Generals Grant and Lee met on the occasion which marked the close of Civil war hostilities.

At one battle of the Revolution the American forces were saved from a terrible defeat by the tough spongy wood of the palmetto tree. That was at Charleston, S. C. during the battle of Fort Moultrie. Then the British volleys fell harmless against the trees which sheltered the Continental army. The first Protestant church services in the United States were held under trees at Jamestown, Va. The most recent of historic trees in Washington are the Japanese cherries, the gift of the late Emperor of China. They were set out along the Potomac Drive.

It seems known to few Washington visitors that the huge bronze statue of Liberty which tops the Capitol dome faces away from the White House and Washington monument. Few seem to know that the original plans of the city were for the building where the nation's laws were made, to face east and not west.

When the Capitol plans were drawn the government expected the city to spread to the east and the building was faced in that direction. Trade, however, drifted West and before many years it was necessary to make the western approach as dignified and beautiful as the real front. And now when strangers come, few notice that they look at the original rear of the Capitol when they glance down Pennsylvania avenue from the Treasury Building.

Just the common ordinary mumblety-peg is the latest diversion for high government officials. Some days ago, wearied by the long tolls debate in the senate, Senators Overman and Chilton, of North Carolina and West Virginia respectively, jumped into an automobile, rode over about twenty miles into Virginia, sat down in the cool shade to play. Chilton possessed the two bladed knife and started the fun. After a tough contest, Overman lost and had to kneel down and pull with his teeth a peg from the ground. Chilton had the pleasure of "driving the peg."

BIRDS TO FIND MANY FRIENDS

Migratory Law Will be Upheld by Able Lawyers When Case Goes to Supreme Court

WAS STARTED IN ARKANSAS

Indiana Interested Because State is in Path of Migration—Swamp Lands Haven

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 19.—Though the U. S. district court of Arkansas has declared the federal migratory bird law unconstitutional, it will be enforced until the supreme court of the United States passed upon it, according to William T. Hornaday, formerly of Indiana, who writes from New York concerning two decisions on this much debated federal law. Hornaday is director of the New York Zoological park.

Hornaday declares that the case will be taken to the supreme court and that "friends of birds" in great numbers have volunteered to see it through that court. He calls attention to the decision of the U. S. district court of South Dakota, which on April 18, 1914, declared the law constitutional.

"The friends of birds need feel no alarm over this incident nor anything more serious than mild interest. Unless the United States supreme court deliberately elects to pull down a full score of laws that the representatives of the American people have enacted in congress for the greatest good of the greatest number the federal migratory bird law will stand," he says. "The side of the people and the birds will be taken care of, if need be, by a hundred able lawyers who are fully convinced that the law is constitutional, and that its stability can be demonstrated to the satisfaction of any open and logical mind."

Hornaday says that Frederick F. Coudert, a distinguished member of the American bar, has volunteered to defend the law. Hornaday believes that Attorney General McReynolds "can confidently be trusted to conduct the people's fight for the birds with all the acumen and resources of his department."

Indiana is particularly interested in this law because it is in the direct path of migration and because its swamp lands, and lakes to the north have long been famed as ideal hunting grounds. The Kankakee swamps are known throughout the middle west as a haven for duck shooters. Indiana hunters are divided over the federal law, it is said. There has been one arrest in this state—that of Frank Essmeister of Hammond. He paid his fine and the case is closed.

The attack on the bird law is based on the theory that wild birds have always been considered the property of the state, and that the federal authorities may not regulate the shooting of birds, even though states have been proved unable to enforce regulations.

THE BOOT-TOP TUNIC, ONE OF THE MOST FAVORED OF FASHION DETAILS

It seems as though the long tunic had become popular over night; one day we hear whispers that long Russian overskirts are to be used again and the next day we meet them at every turn. There is something chic and becoming about them but most of all, no doubt, it is the fact of their being so strikingly different from the narrow, skimpy skirts of the last few seasons, that makes them appeal so strongly.

In this illustration we see the tunic applied to a plain little frock of dark blue gabardine. The three-piece foundation skirt narrows down to the modish width about the feet, while the overskirt flares most satisfactorily above. The bodice is a kimono design worn over a long-sleeved guimpe. This costume requires for size 36, 5 1/4 yards of 36-inch material.

In the second frock (8402), is shown one of the new basques developed in black taffetas and trimmed with a row of novel buttons, a quaint collar and odd little flaring sections at the bottom of the sleeves. The skirt shows a slight draping at the back and a three-piece tunic. Although somewhat severe there is something pleasing in the straight lines of this basque and it would not be surprising if they became very popular a little later in the season.

To copy this frock in size 36, 5 1/4 yards of 36-inch material is needed. No. 8387, sizes 34 to 42. No. 8402, sizes 34 to 42. Each pattern 15 cents.

To obtain either pattern illustrated fill out this coupon and enclose 15 cents in stamps or coin. Be sure to state number of pattern and size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust. Address Pattern Department, care of this paper.

Mexican and American Delegates Irreconcilably Divided on Provisional President

LITTLE CHANCE TO AGREE

Mediation May End Whenever Conference is Held—One Scheduled for Today Postponed

(By United Press.)

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 19.—Failure of the mediation plan to insure peace in Mexico was believed almost a certainty today.

The American and Mexican delegates are irreconcilably divided on the personnel of the proposed provisional government. The faint hope yet remains that the mediators may be able to choose a man for president satisfactory to both factions.

Ambassador Naon did not return from New Haven and the conference scheduled for today was postponed.

The Mexican delegates suddenly have ceased mingling with the crowds in the hotel lobbies. This indicates they believe mediation has failed.

Mediation may end whenever a conference is held.

The American delegates last night issued a statement, issued with the consent of the Washington Government, in reply to the statement given out last night by the Mexican delegation criticizing the American plan for the establishment of a Provisional Government in Mexico with a Constitutionalist at its head.

Suggestions that President Wilson had any intent to destroy the electoral liberty of Mexico are "utterly repudiated" by the American representatives.

"The BOLTED DOOR"

The statement in part follows:

"The American representatives do not think it conducive to the interests of mediation to publish, during its pendency, the various plans and contentions of the parties, but as the Mexican representatives have given out a formal statement of their objections to the appointment of a Constitutionalist as Provisional President because, among other things, an election conducted by such a Provisional Government would not represent the will of the Mexican people, it has been thought necessary to give a part of the answer to the letter written by Mr. Rabasa.

"In that answer the American representatives utterly repudiate any suggestions that the American President has any intent of destroying the electoral liberty of Mexico, and insists that the Mexican representatives entirely misunderstood the motives and objects of the President, who recognizes the facts and sees in the past success of the Constitutional army indisputable evidence of the approval of the Mexican people. But he also sees that the full triumph of that army means an indefinite continuance of the war with the suffering and bloodshed and death which every war involves.

"These consequences the President seeks to prevent through mediation, but we greatly fear that the language of the Mexican note implies that his efforts may be thwarted because of unwillingness to have a Constitutionalist as Provisional President, even though that promises to be the only practicable means by which the horrors of war can be prevented.

"Hope is expressed that the Mexican representatives will not further oppose the only plan which promises peace, when its rejection means suffering and death to so many."

HAS SURPRISE FOR STATE

Attorney for Rae Krauss Promises
Something New

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, June 19.—Franklin McCray, the attorney who will on June 26 present to the board of pardons Rae Krauss' petition for a complete pardon for the crime of murdering her stepdaughter, said today he had a surprise in store for the state. He would not say what this surprise was, but intimated that the hearing would be dramatic.

"Mrs. Krauss has suffered for ten years. She has learned her duty to society. If released she will recompense society for her crime by faithfully performing her duties. That would be better than to remain in the women's prison, a burden to society," said McCray. McCray said wealthy people of influence in the west had offered to give Rae Krauss a start. "She has extraordinary ability," he said. He said that contrary to reports, large petitions for her pardon were being prepared in Hartford City and Pennville, her home.
